

Post-Acquisition Integration of a Hospital-Employed Physician

Challenge

The employed physician group was going through the integration process of an acquisition by the parent company. The client needed a collection of interim executive management services during the merger integration process.

Solution

We managed the pre- and post-merger integration by successfully leading the integration of the physician organization into the new parent's multi-specialty physician group, as well as their management services organization. We helped by:

- Leading physician employment/contracting activities
- Managing practice acquisitions
- Managing the integration of practice management services, including billing and managed care contracting

About the Client:

A multi-specialty, hospital-based physician group which was going through an acquisition of the parent company hospital by a major academic medical center.
