

6 BENEFITS TELEMEDICINE BRINGS TO YOUR HOSPITAL MEDICINE PROGRAM

Telemedicine makes it possible for smaller facilities to supply quality diagnostic and treatment services in a more cost-efficient, timely manner while still providing personalized patient care. By collaborating with on-site nurses and other medical staff, the telehospitalist can take floor calls, ED calls, handle admissions, and provide virtually the same physical exam as performed at the bedside. With this understanding, it should be apparent a telemedicine program can benefit smaller hospitals in a variety of ways, including:

From initial market evaluation to multi-service implementation, SCP helps hospitals establish or accelerate the appropriate telehealth services to help achieve optimal business success.
